The North Bay: The Perfect Place to Live and Work

More than just a place, the North Bay is a state of mind. One that lives in all of us who love the land — and the lifestyle — available right out the front door. As often as we can, we walk, run, hike, bike, swim, or paddle, taking in the natural beauty of all that surrounds us. And somewhere between the beaches, the bay, and the redwood forests, we find balance, energy, and inspiration. Put simply, the North Bay is transformative and healing. It's a beautiful place you can call home. You can choose to live in San Francisco, Marin, or Sonoma County.
